

Wrighton via Strawberry Line

Longish but quite flat. 27 miles but gentle stuff mainly on quiet country roads. Several nice pubs on the way for refreshments. A café at Yatton station and another in Wrighton. 2 hours if you are keen. 3 - 4 hours if you just roll along.

Start at Clevedon Library. Go along Old Church Road towards the seafront but turn left up Stroud Road. At the Ring Road (by Asda) go right and immediately left continuing on Stroud Road. Over the Blind Yeo and take first left into Colehouse Lane. Over the railway bridge and then left at the T-Junction and immediately right into Davis Lane. After 1 mile, at Kenn Pier, turn right into Kennmoor Road. Follow this to Yatton. When you hit the main road go left and right after the railway bridge into the Station. Pick up the Strawberry line by cycling through the car park to the end. Follow the Strawberry line all the way to Sandford. There is a zig-zag where it crosses the A370 at Congresbury. Just before Sandford, we get off the old railway line onto Nye Road. (The Strawberry line goes on to Cheddar but we get off here) Continue a little past the entrance onto the next section of the cycle path and turn left into Sandmead Road and follow this (Past Churchill School) until you join the A368 opposite The Nelson Arms. There is now a mile or so of main(ish) road. Turn left towards Churchill and at the traffic lights turn left onto the A38. After about half a mile take the left fork (signposted to Clevedon). You approach a mini roundabout – go straight ahead towards Lower Langford. In the village take the left turn into Blackmoor Lane (signs to Wrington). This becomes Half Yard somewhere along there. In Wrington centre follow the road around a righthand bend. There is a café, shop and a couple of pubs in Wrington. Follow the road around to the left up a gentle hill and continue along West Hay Road which becomes Wrington Road, past the White Hart until you reach the A370 again. Go straight across up Wood Hill until you meet the B3133 just before Cadbury Country Club. Turn right and then go left into Claverham Road at the mini roundabout before you get into Yatton. Follow the Claverham Road until it meets Brockley Lane. Turn left again and follow this road until the T-Junction with Chelvey Road. Left again and continue to the next T-Junction with Netherton Wood Lane which takes you past The Blue Flame. As you pass the pub – difficult to do without stopping off – the road becomes Nailsea Wall. Follow this past the turning to Yatton on the left (where we turned earlier) but take the next right into Court Lane. Go along here over the motorway and then left at the T-Junction back into Clevedon. Straight across the mini roundabout, past Castlewood on the left, into Old Street and back to the Triangle.
